

Rhonda Shanahan is the owner of The Whimsical Chair, located in Castle Rock, Colorado. She works directly with her clients to create custom pieces for their homes. Her specialty is antique and vintage family heirlooms. She enjoys the creative process of designing a chair to be the conversation piece for the client's home. Each chair will be unique and one of a kind.

Rhonda also teaches upholstery workshops in her workroom in Colorado. She does traveling leather workshops to help fellow upholsterers add leather upholstery skills to their business. She loves teaching and watching students grow their upholstery skills. She is excited to be an instructor at CWC in 2023.
