

Deborah Cronin, a life-long sewer, has worked in the home decorating industry since 1986. While working in retail sales and management, she was also a part-time workroom, which became full-time in 1999. Leatherwood Design Co fabricates soft furnishings exclusively to the trade, and Deborah is active in the workroom community as a member of the Drapery and Design Pro Network, the WCAA National and also Central New Jersey Chapter, the Workroom Resource Group, and as an instructor at the Custom Workroom Conference 2016 and the Custom Workroom Weekend 2016. Her workroom blog, started in 2010, keeps her in communication with other workroom professionals. She is thrilled that her lifelong passion for fabric has become a thriving profession.
